EDF Invest welcomes Sinal's strategic acquisition of Ewii's fibre network in Denmark's Triangle Region

The transaction propels Sinal beyond one million connected households and accelerates the deployment of next-generation fibre in Denmark.

As shareholder of Sinal alongside PGGM and the Norlys Group, EDF Invest welcomes the completion of the acquisition of the fibre network in the Triangle Region. This strategic transaction marks a major milestone for Sinal, which will soon serve more than one million households and businesses across Denmark. The integration of this network will deliver higher-speed connections to an additional 135,000 addresses.

As of 2 February 2026, Sinal will take over the operation of Ewii's fibre network in the Triangle Region. The company is committed to modernising the existing infrastructure by replacing customers' fibre boxes and migrating them to its new technology platform. This upgrade will not only reduce energy consumption but also significantly increase network capacity, enabling speeds of up to 6 Gbit/s.

Carsten Bryder, CEO of Sinal, stated: "With the acquisition of Ewii's fibre network, we give customers access to even more providers of internet, TV and streaming and the latest fibre technology with the possibility of the very highest speeds. By covering more than one million addresses, we will be able to better invest in a secure and stable fibre network."

EDF Invest fully supports this development, which further strengthens Sinal's position as one of Denmark's leading fibre infrastructure players.

Alexandre Pieyre, Head of EDF Invest, emphasised: "This transaction represents an important milestone in Sinal's development and reinforces our conviction in the long-term value of high-quality digital infrastructure. We are proud to support Sinal in expanding its network and accelerating the deployment of next-generation fibre technologies for the benefit of Danish households and businesses."

The acquisition also enhances user choice: households and businesses in the region will now have access to 18 internet and TV providers operating on Sinal's open fibre network.

As part of the transaction, nearly 50 employees from Ewii Fibernet will join Sinal, bringing valuable expertise to ensure a smooth transition for customers. EDF Invest is pleased to welcome them into the teams.

The transaction's completion follows approval by the Danish Competition and Consumer Authority, granted after the Norlys Group fully complied with its commitments regarding the termination of certain existing cooperations with seven local antenna associations in the Triangle Region.
